Nepal

According to the US Embassy in Kathmandu, King Birendra on Tuesday moved decisively in an attempt to quell the violent disturbances by students and workers. The King accepted the resignation of the Education Minister, created a commission to investigate the protests, released all students not being held on criminal charges, and prescribed steps to reopen Kathmandu University. The Embassy believes that the King has thought better of using strong repressive measures, possibly including use of the Army, and has decided instead on conciliation with the demonstrators.

USSR

Press reports indicate that the emigration rate for Soviet Jews continues to rise. In April, nearly 5,000 left the USSR, the highest monthly figure for this year. Almost all Soviet Jews have visas for Israel but approximately half settle in the US or other Western countries.
